

Lound Archive — part 4

Although Lound was more than a mile from the river Idle, it flowed through a part of the lordship and the villagers had to keep that section in a navigable condition.

The Idle was an important waterway linking the port of Bawtry and Retford. The obligation to keep the river free was often evaded. In 1363, the district was flooded by the Idle due to being choked. It was a recurring problem and back in 1337 Thos. De Lund and others were charged with wrongfully diverting the course of the Idle.

The King's peace was often broken, in 1333 justices were appointed to deal with accusations that the men of Clayworth and other local villages assaulted, robbed and evicted the folk of Lound.

In 1351, Taylor of Lound was arrested and imprisoned in Nottingham Castle as one of a wandering vagabond, for felony and trespass.

As the 14th century came to a close, the Archbishop of York forfeited the manor of Lound. Two years later the Plantagenet dynasty ceased for the House of Lancaster.

Parish Council

>Planning Issues-

Applications: 18/00999/HSE Replacement Bay Window to Front and Single Storey Rear Extension—Silverthorn Little Top Lane Lound

Decisions: None

>Lound Cross Roads-

The Parish Council is disappointed that Nottinghamshire Highways division are not acting swiftly enough in the need for an interactive 'GIVE WAY' sign at the approach to the cross roads in the middle of the village.

Too many drivers seem unaware of the danger ahead and fail to give way, resulting in accidents and near misses. Hence, we intend to send the authorities a petition from the village in an effort to add pressure and speed up the action.

Over the next few weeks every house in the village will be visited by a Parish Councillor to ask for your support.

Please strengthen our action by signing the petition. Thank You

Lound Oil Syndicate

It's that time of year again when we are all starting to plan for cooler days ahead.

We intend to place an order for home oil deliveries to be made in Lound for the week commencing 10th September.

We therefore need your requirements for oil to be with us by Wednesday 5th September at the very latest, so that we can obtain quotations from potential oil suppliers and get the best deal possible for Lound residents.

The more oil we order the better the price we will secure, so please do tell your neighbours that a delivery is being planned and ask if they need any oil.

To place an order (minimum of 500 litres please), or for any questions about the process, please e-mail us at loundoilsyndicate@gmail.com, or telephone: 01777 818089 (Rod and Sarah Austin)

We look forward to hearing from you all, both existing and new oil purchasers.
