

Families of Lound Hall

Part 3—

History of the families living in Lound Hall will continue next month as some additional research is required.

Village Green

The snowdrops in the Village Garden are the best they have ever been, which has been helped by splitting the largest bunches as soon as the Flowers have finished and replanting in a space.

The daffodils are now coming through, and with having different varieties they will flower at slightly different intervals and give a variety of blooms. Some crocus are in flower and the English bluebells are pushing through the ground for a later showing.

Many bulbs were salvaged from the street planters from last year, including many tulips.

Taking a walk through the site is uplifting and confirms the arrival of spring, it also helps restrict the growth of the vegetation in the pathways which in turn helps our small team of gardeners.

On the wild life side there is much going on, mainly after dark, with large and small holes in the soil hiding small mammals.

Three old birds nests were found from last years broods. There is a resident robin that seams to live in the holly tree next to the water bath and as soon as I top up the water the robin takes a bath.

To see wildlife you just need to slow right down, even stop, be patient and also examine everything in minute detail.

There is a whole new world out there. Why not go and take a rest and sit in the garden and watch and listen to nature.

Village Dog Poo.....

We have reports of the unacceptable amount of dog poo littered around Lound and Lingham Lakes. This is not only unsightly but a danger to children who risk being infected by roundworm parasites, most commonly found in cats, dogs and foxes faeces. For this reason dogs are not allowed on playing fields.

Can dog owners please take responsibility and clear the offending mess from our streets and surrounding areas and dispose of in the correct manner.

Thank you

Parish Council

>Pot Holes:

Many of you will have noticed the deep potholes and surface condition of Daneshill Road, from the village crossroads.

The Parish Council has reported this to NCC Highways and subsequently, some have been repaired. However, to give greater impetus you can also report road conditions to Notts County Council.

They prioritise road works based on the number of reports, so the more that report it the faster it'll get addressed.

The easiest way is to use their 'MyNotts' phone app.
